A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year To All

OLD CATALOGUE BRINGS PROFIT

Clinton, Okla. — L. A. Mitchell while on a trip in Texas found an old Catalogue with coin price list. Bringing it home he decided to check a bag of coins he had put away some 25 years ago. Result, he found a few worth over $150.

Here is another interesting news item about GOLD COINS.

Julius Bracey of Phila. Pa. while sorting junk scrap metal came across an old water main pipe, inspecting it he noted a few small tin cans stuffed in it. Being curious he broke them out, to his surprise there lay before him a small fortune $5,542. in gold coins most of them being $20. pieces. Mr. Bracey can keep them if the owner cannot be found.

I imagine a few dealers from Phila. have tried contacting the lucky person. I also imagine he would sell them or become a coin collector, as gold coins are no longer legal tender.

WAYTE RAYMOND PASSES AWAY

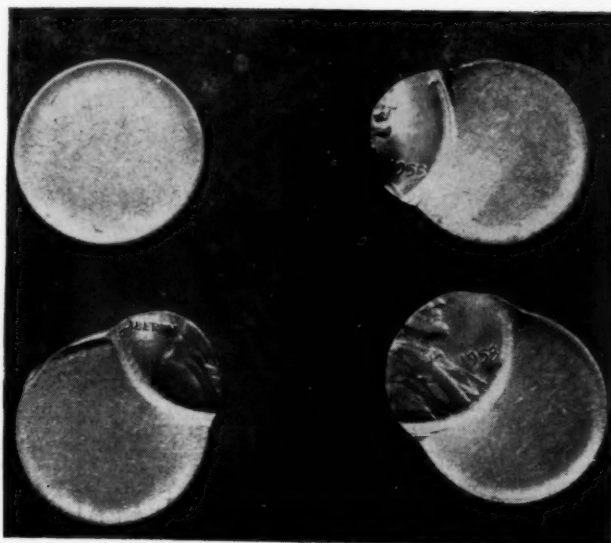

Wayte Raymond, well known numismatic publisher and album manufacturer, passed away in New York City on September 23 at the age of 69.

In 1952 Mr. Raymond received the 50-year gold membership medal of the American Numismatic Ass'n. He was a member of several numismatic organizations.

His widow survives.

POLL OF SUBSCRIBERS

While segregating our copy bundles for mailing by second class services, we noted, we now have subscribers from every state in the union. Also noted were the five states which have the most "Flying Eaglet" subscribers, in order they are: New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, California and Ohio. These five states represent the majority of our mailing list at the present time.

A Descriptive History of National Bank Notes

This is the title of the new reference book produced by the noted paper currency expert and writer William H. Dillistin of Paterson, New Jersey.

Mr. Dillistin is a member of many numismatic organizations and has honored me with a complimentary copy of this book. It is the first and only descriptive history of these interesting notes covering their entire period 1863-1935. It is an indispensable reference work for collectors of these notes.

It contains the Treasury numbering system, comments on rarities, charts of signature combinations and many other informative and interesting items in its fifty-five pages.

A copy sells for $5.00 postpaid. To obtain a copy write to:

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

A Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year to all.

The holidays will find many of us traveling, shopping and preparing for the joyous occasion. There should be a brisk business at the coin counters for proof sets and choice rare items.

The past month we attended the second meeting of the Newark Coin Club at the YW-YMCA, a newly erected building which has many wonderful facilities and is well situated on Broad Street at the base of Central Avenue in Newark, N. J. A wonderful time was had by all. Mrs. Spadone and I have become proud charter members. At this time I would like to comment on the wonderful job James A. Brown has done in organizing this coin club. To my estimation Mr. Brown's work, interest and contributions to this hobby in all respects, is a credit to the Numismatic field. I am certain this club will become one of the larger ones in the future, as Newark has a population of over 500,000. New members are welcomed to join us and attend any of our meetings. If you are in the vicinity or passing through, stop in for a visit. Meetings are held every second Tuesday of the month.

We also had the pleasure of meeting all the memoers on hand. Jack Feinstein an active subscriber and advertiser of our Eaglet was present and displayed a rare B.U. 1942/41 dime and a 1916 S.L. quarter. John Budzyn of Rutherford, N. J. had a nice collection of Unc. Indian cents, 1859 to 1909-S. He also mentioned completing two complete sets of Lincoln cents found through circulation since 1930.

The Harmil Enterprizes was also present. Mrs. Devine acquired a scarce old book of the History of U.S. Mint and was kind enough to let me borrow it for my inspection. It is dated 1888. I have noted some very interesting items, one being a list of coins of the day available and the prices asked. Its first item of interest was the rare 1804 SILVER DOLLAR PRICED AT $500. TWO CENT PIECES 1864 thru 1873 PROOFS AT 40c EACH. THE RARE 1856 FLYING EAGLET CENT AT $5.00 FINE. 1866 Cents through 1876 all dates fine at 19c each. 1877 AT 50c. THE UNIQUE RARE 1849 $20.00 GOLD AT $1,000. and many others from 1/2 cent to gold pieces.

I have in my possession an item of interest, an 1882 Liberty Head V Nickel a Gem Pattern. This type nickel was first minted as of 1883. I understand some 21 were struck. I would like to hear from anyone owning one of these 1882 patterns and of their value. I hope to insert a picture of this 1882 Nickel in our January issue.

HAPPY HOLIDAY!

NEW JERSEY NUMISMATIC SOCIETY

November 8, 1956

The 274th. meeting of the N. J. Numismatic Society met November 8th. at the Military Park Hotel, Newark, N. J. Mr. Arthur Mershon presided and there were the usual number of members present. No report as yet from the membership nominating committee. After communications, suggestions were that visits be made to convelescent members and get well cards sent. The auction scheduled for that night was postponed and trading and gabfest took its place. Exhibitions being in order, J. A. Brown read an article describing the life of a famous counterfeiter, Napoleon Bonaparte. George Wait showed a lottery ticket of Mt. Florence, Prize Estate, 1872, lotteries were quite common and legal in the early days. William Klein has a nice 1896 small date, small letters U. S. Silver Dollar picked up at an auction as a sleeper. Vincent F. Torhan had a Gournsey 1956 Proof Set and a 1944 nickel with no M.M., possibly a Camden imitation. W. A. Selfridge introduced for inspection an interesting copy of a Dekadrachma of Syracuse struck in silver, which might be a Met. Token.

At the meeting's close there was much conversation as to the ability of the aggregate coin collectors of America to absorb the vast volume of 1956 Proof Sets on a collectors basis, for each collector would have approximately ten sets each of this year's issue if they were divided evenly. Also the disparity in prices of Proof Sets according to rarity, for some Proof Sets of the eighteen hundreds with almost twice as many coins as the 1936 Proof Set and twenty times as scarce are selling for one third the price of the '36.

Sincerely yours,
JAMES A. BROWN
Secretary

LETTERS OF COMMENT

Dear Sir:

Enclosed is money order for 2 more years of the Flying Eaglet. I like the Eaglet very much. I think it is tops, keep up the good work. I expect to do some advertising in your paper shortly. Wishing you plenty of success.

M. E. WHITE
Central Valley, Calif.

Dear Mr. Spadone:

Enclosed is check for a subscription to the Flying Eaglet. Mrs. Budge and I attended the Okla.-Kansas Numismatic Association meeting in Wichita and saw your October issue. As we are new at this, we feel we will like your paper to keep us up to date.

R. L. BUDGE

RENEWAL COMMENTS

We like your paper very much and have always found your comments reliable.

H. V. RHOADES
Grand Rapids, Mich.

Your Flying Eaglet Coin Journal is getting better with each issue. I really enjoy reading it.

C. B. HOLCOMBE
Burlington, Vermont

Very interesting indeed. Beauty part is you can read from cover to cover advertisements and all and also carry the Eaglet around in your pocket for easy reference.

NOTICE

I have received comments from a few dealers in reference to the fluctuation of prices of Proof Sets and rolls. The speculators and investors are effecting this.

I feel some sort of medium and control should be had to protect the collectors and keep this hobby wholesome.

For example the Proof Sets - as many collectors have paid top prices for their items! Should the speculators and investors decide to unload they would have to cut these prices to sell volume. Consequently the collector having paid top price may feel he hasn't been treated fair. Thus the dealer is in the middle. This is the same with rolls. I would be happy to hear from our readers and others of their comments and suggestions so that we might be able to help the collector and keep this hobby wholesome and within the collector's means.

1944 COPPER 5¢ PIECE

The above nickel was struck on a cent planchet, and was sent to me for inspection by Anthony Bongiovanni of Box 458 Rocky Point, N. Y. Anthony mentioned he is not too interested in selling his rare mint error, but, if the right price came along, he might go for it.

NEWARK, N. J. COIN CLUB SECOND MEETING

The second meeting of the Newark, N. J. Coin Club was held at the Newark Y.M.-Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday evening, November 13th. with fifteen members and Guests present. The meeting opened with the "Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag." The door prize was won by William Klein and the prize was a fine bronze Sestertii, attributed and donated by Earl A. McBrayer of Cincinnati, Ohio who was made an honorary member in absentia, (more power to his elbow). The best exhibition prize was won by Ralph H. Ullrich the gentleman in the buckskin shirt who brought a mass of proof material in sets, series and groups and also a chunk of S Mint silver of sixty cunes. The prize was a coin book. A number of historical anecdotes about famous and infamous men numismatically marked by tragedy, Napoleon, Arron Burr and Jefferson Davis, was read by J. A. Brown. A lively auction full of laughs and a variety of collectors items produced another hour of fun and all items went at bargain prices. There was some trading and swapping after the sale. A number of coin publications were given out by several publishers who were either present or sent some in gratis for the edification and distribution to members.

Ancient Roman Coin Portraits - Commodus

By Earl McBrayer

Lucius Aelius Aurelius Commodus was emperor of Rome from 180 A.D. until his death by strangulation in 192 A.D. The benevolent representation of Commodus on the medallion pictured above would seem to indicate that Rome was most fortunate to have such a distinguished looking ruler to guide the policies of the Empire. Such was not the case. The portrait would better fit the character of his father.

Commodus was the degenerate son of the most noble Marcus Aurelius. The ignominious Commodus was interested in self-indulgence, not statesmanship. Although the many coins and medallions issued during his reign attest to his glory and good rule, he was an extravagant tyrant.

Probably the most outstanding single characteristic of Commodus was his insane egotism. He renamed Rome and the senate after his person and called himself Hercules Romanus, the Roman Hercules. On many of his coins this infamous emperor assumes the lion-skin and weapons of the god, Hercules.

In an attempt to prove his claim to the reincarnation of Hercules, Commodus displayed his skill and shamed his position by fighting wild animals and gladiators in the common arena. Needless to say every precaution was taken to insure the safety of this worthless profligate while his adversaries were not so fortunate. Historians agree that it would have been a good day for Rome if some unfortunate, helpless animal had repaid Commodus with a well-placed kick before succumbing to the blood-thirsty lust of this cruel ruler.

The depravity of Commodus finally ended when he was strangled in a drunken stupor at the hands of a professional wrestler. The assassin had been paid to do the deed by Marcia, a favorite concubine of Commodus; Eclectus, his chamberlain, and Laetus, the Praetorian praefect.

An example of the coinage of the reign of Commodus is not especially difficult to acquire. Many coins and medallions were struck during his reign. The medallion in the illustration is one of the finest examples in the British Museum and is consequently an expensive variety. An average example of a coin of Commodus may be obtained for a dollar.

The Allegheny-Kiski Valley Numismatic Society

The Allegheny-Kiski Valley Numismatic Society held its November meeting at the East Kensington Community Center opposite Martin School, 7th St. New Kensington, Penna.

There were approximately 20 members and friends present. A quiz on coins was held and the winner received a prize of one years' dues paid up. After the quiz was held on coins, a coin auction was held. Each member brought in an average of about five coins each and a lively session was had by all.

It was agreed that we repeat the program for our next meeting Thursday, December 6th, 1956 at the same location starting at 7:30 P. M.

Any person interested in coin collecting is welcome to attend our meetings and join our group.

If you have any coins to sell we will auction them off for you.

Come and bring a friend or two along and enjoy a nice sociable evening.

Our Charter is open for Charter Members till January 1, 1957.

HARRY GERLACH,
Sec.-Treasurer
New Kensington, Pa.

READERS MAIL EXCHANGE

How many collectors have seen these letters on a coin envelope that they bought? And just wonder what the dealer paid for the coin. BUL well it could be $1.25 or whatever their Code is. Any coin collector can make up their own code. All you have to do is find a Ten letter word that has no duplicate letters and there you are. Here are a couple of codes that are a beginner for you.

B L U E M O N D A Y

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
or this one, B U Y O L D C E N T as to BUL it is in the last code. Now that you have two of my pets, try one of your own and code price your own coins. It's a lot of fun for the new collectors.

A tip to the collectors that have a yen to start collecting Freak Coins. First you have to read all of the ads that you see as you might find a nice freak right in the middle of the ad. I once found a nice 1937 Quarter struck in copper in the middle of an ad and after that I read every ad I saw. Second, its a good idea to advertise for freaks, you will get a lot of mail and a lot of such as a cent with part of date missing, Die breaks, Clip planchets, etc. These I don't call freaks, although some die breaks make interesting items, such as one Lincoln cent I have. Lincoln is blowing a bubble, another one Lincoln has an arrow shot through him. When this last one came out in 1939 some one called it "Lincoln with a log on his shoulder."

It took me eight years to complete my Set of Blank Planchets, Dollar to Cents with two Nickels (war issue) and two of the Cents (regular and steel). The steel cent was the last one I got.

The most interesting freaks are the ones that are Double Struck, and hard to find and cost quite a bit. Off metal coins are next, such as the Silver Cents that came out when the Zinc-coated cents were first issued (1943). I saw a Half Dollar listed in an auction a few months ago and it was struck on a foreign planchet, I think it is bronze-aluminum, dated 1943. I got the coin and now I have to find out coins this government struck that year for foreign countries, so far I have had no luck.

QUESTION - ANSWER BOX

In reply to Mr. Pittners question of November issue.

Answer

The reeded edge Lincoln cents of 1937 were manufactured by persons at Philadelphia and should not be in the guide book.

William Fox Steinberg
Miami, Florida

Question

Can you please tell me where I can get complete proof sets of every country available?

Mrs. Grace W. Kennedy
400 Fisher Road
Fitchburg, Mass.

Answer

Possibly some of our readers and dealers can be of help.

Question

Enclosed find my renewal for another year subscription of what I consider one of America's outstanding Coin Journals, "The Flying Eagle." I would like to know the current selling and buying prices of 1899 and 1904 Canadian half dollar which I have.
